John E. L. Wayman, former State's attorney for Cook county Illinois fired two bullets into his body at his residence yesterday. The cause ascribed was a nervous breakdown due to ill health. He may recover. For several weeks his physicians had warned him that unless he quit work entirely he would undoubtedly die.

DETECTIVE IN LOVE TANGLE.

Duped by Servant Girl he Courted to Learn of Youth's Murder.

A Berlin correspondent of the New York Tribune writes:

The overzealous efforts of a private detective to unravel the mystery of the death of a schoolboy, Ernest Tiemann, found hanging by his parents in his home last October, has led him into a love entanglement and trouble with the police.

The parents of young Tiemann were not satisfied that their son had committed suicide and employed a detective, who began his work by making the acquaintance of a servant girl employed by Tiemanns at the time of the tragedy and suspected of being in some way connected with it.

Masquerading as a wealthy young merchant, he became a suitor for the girl's hand. As soon as he was engaged to marry her he told her that he had learned that she was suspected of murdering the boy, and, although he was ready to marry her, even if guilty, she must first make a clean breast of the matter.

The girl then confessed that a former sweetheart had strangled the boy, who found them in the Tiemann house.

According to the Berlin newspapers, however, the police authorities now incline to the theory that the girl duped the detective, who was subjected to a stiff cross examination at the public prosecutor's office, after which the statement was made that there now was every ground to believe the girl. The prosecutor asserts that she made the so-called "confession" in order to avoid losing her fiancé.

Proceedings against the detective are now threatened for assuming official authority. The girl is still in jail.

CONTEMPT OF COURT RULING.

Order in Gompers' Case Held to Apply in Civil Actions Also.

New York, April 18.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled yesterday that contempt proceedings in a civil case to be valid must be instituted by the government and not by a private individual. The opinion was based upon the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the famous case of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the "Buck Stove" and Range Company. The latter was a criminal case, but the Circuit Court held that the ruling there made applicable to civil cases as well.

The court today reversed precedents by declaring that a person adjudged guilty of contempt in a civil suit should be given the alternative of leaving jail before the expiration of his ten-day sentence, if meanwhile he consented to answer questions. Only in a criminal case, the decision held, could the prisoner for contempt be made to serve the whole sentence.

Seven persons were burned to death several women sustained injuries from which they may die, an score of persons rescued by firemen in a spectacular fire which destroyed the De Wilson Hotel, an old three-story wooden structure in Malone, N. Y. yesterday.
